The draft manual for Bushland Friends Groups that has recently been compiled by City officers was tabled for the Committee's consideration. Committee members studied the draft document and suggested a number of amendments.

The manual with suggested amendments will be tabled at the November 2005 Conservation Advisory Committee Meeting.

Committee Members asked staff to research whether bushland volunteers under the age of sixteen are covered by the City's insurance policies while working within the City's bushland reserves. Staff said they would report back on this issue at the next meeting.
